Re: CA, Inc. – Notification of Potential Security Breach under MD Stat. Ann. § 14-3504

Dear Attorney General:

We write to advise you of an incident in which a file containing certain personal information of former employees of Netegrity, Inc. (a company acquired by CA in 2004), was possibly accessed by an unauthorized party. On May 26, 2008, a break-in and theft occurred at the offices of Colt Express Outsourcing Services, Inc., a company that provided benefit plan administration services to Netegrity.

To our knowledge, an Excel file containing personal information as defined under statute of a total of 973 individuals (507 former Netegrity employees and their dependents), only one of whom is a Maryland resident. The information in the report that was potentially accessible included names, addresses, phone numbers, dates of birth, and Social Security numbers of these former Netegrity employees and their dependents. Apparently, the data of other employers was taken as well, the details of which we do not know.

Learning About the Incident. The incident involves a company called Colt Express Outsourcing Services, Inc., which was a benefit plan administration outsourcer to Netegrity, Inc. CA was advised by letter dated June 4, 2008 that on May 26, 2008, between approximately 4:30pm and 5:00pm PST, someone broke into Cold Express's office at 2125 Oak Grove Road, Suite 210, Walnut Creek, California. Upon discovery the next morning, the incident was reported to the Walnut Creek Police Department, which filed report number 08-12367.

Investigating the Incident. We made several attempts to contact Colt to obtain more information about the incident but Colt continuously refused to provide any details of the incident because of an ongoing police investigation. When we contacted the Walnut Creek Police Department on June 25th, we were told that a server containing employee personal information of various companies was stolen. The police would not speculate as to whether the burglary was performed for purposes of obtaining identity theft data or committing fraud, but they indicated that only one individual had reported a claim relating to compromised credit.

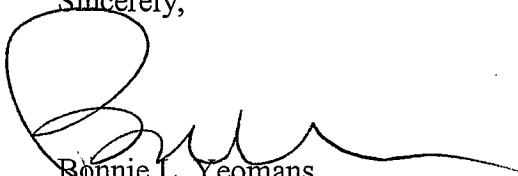

As of this time, CA has no first hand knowledge that any employee information was misused as a consequence of the breach, and we are unaware of any reported instance of fraud or misuse of the data other than the one individual identified by the Walnut Creek Police related to this incident. We do not know whether the individual who reported the compromised credit was a Netegrity employee or an employee of another company also affected by this incident.

Communicating with Affected Individuals. In order to ensure that affected individuals could take immediate steps to protect themselves from possible identity theft or other harm or damage, CA will promptly notify them of the incident by sending notices via first-class mail on or about July 21, 2008. The notification letter, attached to this letter as Exhibit A, will, among other things, advise those former and current Netegrity employees and dependents to remain vigilant by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports. The letter will also advise affected individuals that CA has procured on their behalf one year of Equifax's Credit Watch Gold Monitoring Services, and will further advise that them of their rights under law.

Efforts to Prevent Reoccurrence. CA has implemented steps to ensure that appropriate security measures are in place to prevent this kind of loss, to the extent it can be prevented. Some of these steps include formal policies, procedures and required employee training surrounding privacy and data protection to educate employees of their obligations with respect to the treatment of data; the implementation of a formal vendor questionnaire that is submitted to vendors before engaging with them to ensure that they have appropriate security procedures in place; the requirement that vendors sign a Data Protection Agreement which includes, among other things, requirements for data encryption and restrictions on data transfers; an internal process for ensuring that any sensitive data transferred to and from vendors is either encrypted or sent through secure means. We are currently implementing processes to audit these vendors on a periodic basis.

We trust that this letter and its enclosure provide you with all the information required to assess this incident and the adequacy of CA's response. Please let us know if you have additional questions or if we can be of further assistance. I can be reached at the telephone number and email address below my signature.

Sincerely,

Bonnie L. Yeomans

MINORS (UNDER 18 YEARS OF AGE) AND EQUIFAX CREDIT WATCH

Minors typically do not have a credit file, which is required for enrollment in the Equifax Credit Watch product. However, to give parents/guardians peace of mind that their child does not have a credit file they can take the following actions.

- 1) Try to place a fraud alert on the child's credit report. Call 1-877-478-7625. The system will ask for Social Security Number and address information. If the system responds by asking for additional id verification documents such as SSN card, then this confirms that the child does not have a credit file.
